"The men in hiding under the stone wall lay there until sunset, when the troops had returned to Jaruco. Then they went to Govin's body and buried it, as it had fallen from his hands and lay on the ground near the agave tree. They joined Major Valencia late that night and made a formal report of what they had seen.

"Their reports I repeat as they were given to me by Major Valencia. Full details of the affair have been forwarded to General Fitzhugh Lee in Havana, and the eye-witnesses, who are still with Valencia's force, are prepared to indicate the spot where they buried Govin's mutilated body.

"These facts I have detailed in a deposition before the Agent of the Plant Steamship Line, who is a notary public in Key West, at the request of P. L. Govin, brother of the victim, who intended to forward them to the Government at Washington.

—JULIO RODRIGUEZ BAZ,
Major, Division of Matanzas."

Lacret's Edict.

Major Baz is living at No. 123 East Twelfth street. Until the opening of the revolution he was Portuguese Consul in Havana, to which post he succeeded his father, Manuel Rodriguez Baz. He has seen hard fighting and bears the scars of four wounds, one unhealed. He is a slight, wiry man, but full of courage and made the celebrated invasion of Havana province as an aid to General Gomez. He brings with him an interesting edict of Lacret, commander of the division of Matanzas, which reads:

"Division of Matanzas, Aug. 15, 1896.

"Three days after date I will cause to be destroyed by dynamite all trains carrying soldiers and passing through my province. Trains bearing passengers may pass over the lines on Sundays, but only when bearing a white signal flag.

"LACRET, MORLOT."

FIFTY-ONE CUBANS SHOT.

Insurgents Confined in Cabana and Morro Killed by General Weyler's Orders.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—Captain-General Weyler cables from Havana that fifty-one insurgents, who were confined in the Cabana Fortress and Morro Castle, were shot today.

An official dispatch from Manila states that the chief leaders of the insurrection in Corvite have been captured and shot.

FOUND HER DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Horning Learned Her Girl Was Alive by Reading a Journal Story.

Through the medium of the Journal Mrs. J. Lee Horning and her daughter, Hannah, were yesterday afternoon restored to each other's arms after a separation of more than eleven years, and after each had long believed the other dead.

In last Monday's Journal was a story telling how Hannah Horning was anxiously searching for her sister, Minnie, from whom she had been long separated. This was seen by her mother, who is cook in the home of one of the officials on Blackwell's Island. She was overjoyed to learn that her daughter was alive, and hastened to White Plains to see "Bud" Smith, who, it was said, could tell her of Hannah. Mr. Smith promised to find Hannah and bring her to this city, which he did yesterday forenoon. The two hastened over to Blackwell's Island, and there Hannah, who is a slender, blue-eyed girl, with a trim figure and neatly dressed, saw her mother. "Hannah!" murmured the older woman, tremulously; and in a moment the two were laughing and sobbing in each other's arms, and then they released their hold, and looked long and lovingly into each other's eyes, and then again they sobbingly embraced.

"And have I really, really got a mother?" said the girl.

Twelve years ago, Mrs. Horning became a widow, and, after struggling for awhile to support her children, committed them to a children's home, in charge of Superintendent Pierce.

He refused, after awhile, so the two women say, to let the mother see her children, and then, as opportunities arose, he bound them out.

Hannah, under the name of Anna Myers, was sent, and Mr. Pierce says he has lost track of her. She was, a few years ago, at the Chicago and more recently at Katonah, and there is no reason to believe that she is with a family whose name is unknown, who reside either on Lexington avenue, this city, or in Katonah, N. Y.

The home of the two boys is unknown, but Hannah says that Mr. Pierce told her recently that they were somewhere out West.

BOLTERS WILL BE ABSENT.

Buffalo Convention Will Not See Either Hill or Sheehan.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Senator Hill has sent no positive word to Buffalo, but it is the understanding that he has decided not to attend the State Convention. W. F. Sheehan will not come to the Convention, as he considers it a foregone conclusion that the ticket will be endorsed, and he does not care to be seen here waging a vain battle against his brother, John C. Sheehan, to whom all signs now point as the directing leader of the Convention.

The National Committee has informed his friends that he and Senator Hill had decided to make no fight to retain the State organization, and that he meant this was evidenced a few hours later by the withdrawal of his personal candidates who were standing for re-election to the State Committee from the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Senate districts.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon E. C. S. Miller was in the field and stood a good chance of re-election on the ground of personal popularity and because of his conspicuous services to the party. As soon as Mr. Sheehan's letter was given out, Mr. Miller and State Committeeman Joseph P. Schattner, of the Forty-eighth District, announced their withdrawal from the contest, and this county will put pronounced silver men on the committee from all three districts.

Senator Hill has not given up his hotel quarters here, and there is still a chance that he may come. The only political consequence here to-night was Norton Chase, of Albany, as Tammany will not be here until Tuesday, there will be no leaders here to-morrow to frame plans for the opening of the Convention.

It is said here to-morrow that Chairman Hinkley is preparing a letter similar to Mr. Sheehan's, which he will make public to-morrow or immediately after the Convention has closed its labors.

County Conventions Follow the Advice of the Nominee for President.

Iron-Clad Instructions Given to Many of the Democratic Delegates.

PLATFORM WILL ALSO BE APPROVED.

Nearly All the Counties Indorse it and Demand That the State Convention Shall Do Likewise.

Democrats of New York State are following the advice given them by their candidate, William J. Bryan, in his final speeches in this State. Mr. Bryan's last address was delivered at a farmers' picnic the endorsement of both the Chicago ticket platform.

CHIEF DELEGATE.

The Democratic County Committee has endorsed Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform.

The Chemung County Democratic Convention was held at Homebush and was largely attended. It had been reported that Senator David H. Hill would be sent as an undisciplined delegate from the convention, but his name was not presented. The delegates elected were instructed for Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform, and resolutions were adopted endorsing the Democratic candidates and platform.

CATTARAUGUS.

The two Assembly districts of Cattaraugus County have chosen six delegates to the State Convention who are pronounced and enthusiastic Bryan and silver men. There will be no contesting delegations, as the Democracy of the county is solidly for free silver. The delegates are under cast-iron instructions to do their utmost to have the State Convention endorse the Chicago ticket and platform and to support no candidate for the gubernatorial nomination who is not actively in sympathy with the same.

CAYUGA.

The two Democratic District Conventions of Cayuga County instructed for Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform. In both conventions specific instructions were given by resolution in favor of free silver.

DELAWARE.

At the Democratic County Convention resolutions were passed endorsing the Chicago platform and nominees. The State delegation was instructed to support a candidate in sympathy with the Chicago platform.

ORLEANS.

The Orleans Democratic County Convention at Albion elected the following delegates to the Buffalo Convention: James A. Hanlon, Eugene Walsh and George Kinnott. They were instructed to endorse the Chicago platform and ticket.

OSWEGO.

ONEIDA.

The three Assembly District Democratic Conventions were held in August. The delegates to Buffalo were all instructed to vote to endorse Bryan and Sewall.

ONTARIO.

The Democratic County Convention to elect delegates to Buffalo was held August 19. A resolution to instruct delegates to vote for State officers who are in favor of Chicago platform and nominees was defeated. The delegates are, however, in favor of Bryan and and Sewall and endorsing the Chicago platform, and delegates were instructed to work and vote for the unqualified endorsement of the ticket by the State Convention.

SCHENECTADY.

In the County Democratic Convention delegates were unanimously instructed to support Bryan and free silver.

SUFFOLK.

Bryan and Sewall and free silver were heartily endorsed by the First Assembly District Democratic Convention.

SENECA.

The three delegates to the Buffalo Convention from Seneca County are staunch supporters of Bryan and Sewall.

TIOGA.

Tioga County Democrats held convention September 1. Delegates to Buffalo are gold men. Resolutions were adopted to endorse the nomination of Bryan and Sewall and the platform adopted. The delegates were instructed to vote for full endorsement of the candidates and platform of the Chicago Convention.

ULSTER.

The First Assembly District delegates have instructions to vote for the endorsement of the national Democratic ticket and the Chicago platform. The Second District Democrats gave similar instructions and adopted resolutions pledging support to the Chicago ticket.

WESTCHESTER.

At the Assembly District Convention of the Second District of Westchester County, resolutions were adopted endorsing the candidacy of Bryan and Sewall and the platform adopted at the Chicago Convention. The delegates were instructed to vote for the endorsement of both candidates and platform and to work for the nomination of a State ticket and the adoption of a State platform in harmony therewith.

MAINE DEMOCRATIC VOTE IS UNCERTAIN.

For This Reason the Republican Majority May Be a Surprise.

Murat Halstead Learns of Many Instances Where Democrats Will Bolt.

Their Meetings Have Been Addressed by Speakers Who Were Unknown Men.

JOE MANLEY IS NOW RESTING.

Republicans Throughout the Pine Tree State Are Full of Confidence and Have Expectations of an Immense Vote.

By Murat Halstead.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 13.—Joe Manley has done his work, made his figures and gone to the country to rest from his labors, and therefore Augusta is a deserted town. My expectations of the magnitude of the

that he was followed with the clearest intelligence from point to point, and this is the common experience of the speakers. The venerable ex-Senator Bradbury, ninety-four years old, a Jackson Democrat, sends out a denial to-night of a report that he had concluded to vote the Democratic ticket. He will vote the Republican ticket and estimates the Republican majority to-morrow at 30,000.

BY ANTI-BRYAN MEN.

Further Efforts of the Honest Men League to Influence the Voters of Many Employers in This City.

The Democratic Honest Money League of America has become so impressed with the probability of Democratic victory in this State that unusual efforts are being made to secure votes for McKinley and Hobart or Palmer and Buckner. Major John Byrne, the president of the League, who has been sent up through the western part of the State and who has been discovered that "Bryan's ugly trail" had made many counties "rotten on silver," has evolved a scheme of organization.

Enrollment sheets are being sent to employers of labor, with the request that they be circulated for signatures among the employees. Midday political meetings are held daily in many business establishments, and as a bait the workmen are told they may take an extra half hour for leisure if they came to attend the meetings.

The burden of success at these gatherings is directed against Bryan and Sewall. One employee sends to the Journal the printed slip attached to each batch of enrollment blanks. The slip is headed, "The Democratic Honest Money League of America, No. 15 West Twenty-fourth street, New York," and reads:

Dear Sir—Will you please hand enclosed enrollment sheets to some "Honest Money Democrat" in your employ, so that he may have them filled out by his fellow-employees and returned to me. This entails no outlay of money upon the signers, and does not bind any one to vote for any candidate; it only pledges them to defeat Bryan and the Chicago platform. Yours truly, JOHN BYRNE, President.

The letter continues:

I am employed as foreman in a large clock house in Prince street. I was approached by one of the firm two weeks ago and asked if I would try to form a McKinley campaign club among the men working under me. My employer told me mid-day political meetings would be held near the shop, and he intended giving an extra half hour at lunch time to all those who wished to attend.

Knowing that I refused to do it, I would be discharged, I spoke to several of the workmen whom I had overheard talking Republicanism. They seemed to think it was a grand scheme, and started in to enroll the men. They got thirty-five names. Some held off, telling me they would rather work the streets and beg than join a Republican club and pledge themselves to support the ticket.

I was again approached Friday morning by the same member of the firm, and enrollment blanks from the Democratic Honest Money League were given to me, requesting me to try to get the signatures of those who refused to join our McKinley Club, together with names of the club members. Every man in the shop signed it, but I don't know how many will keep their pledge.

I was speaking to a friend of mine Saturday. He is employed in the office of Bernheimer & Schmidt, Lion Brewery. He said they received by mail that morning enrollment blanks from the same organization. They have also canvassed the stationary trade. Another friend of mine employed in State & Co.'s house in William street, tells me they have received some blanks.

Labor leaders yesterday said evidence was plenty to prove the uneasiness of the anti-Bryan managers, but that while workingmen might sign enrollment blanks through fear of losing their positions they would vote as they pleased.

BUSY WEEK FOR MCKINLEY.

Total Number of Pilgrims to Canton During the Next Six Days Will Exceed 50,000.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 13.—Major McKinley did not go to Zoar last night, as he had thought at one time of doing. The people gave him no chance to leave town. This morning he took a short drive with Mrs. McKinley and made a visit to his mother. He did not go to church. This afternoon he took a long drive into the country, and was much refreshed by it.

He is looking well and feeling well after his week of arduous work and is ready for the still harder work of the new week. Major McKinley will have a larger number of delegations at his house this week than he has received in the same length of time since his nomination, and many of them will be from the West.

The number of political pilgrims to Canton this week will number more than fifty thousand. Among those who will come are the following:

Monday—Business men and wool growers of Harrison County, Ohio.

Tuesday—An excursion of more than one thousand voters from Somerset County, Pa., and Western Maryland.

Wednesday—Grand Army posts of Canton and vicinity will make a formal call on the candidate. The same day a large delegation from Mansfield, Mich., will arrive in Canton. This delegation will represent the voters of Calhoun County.

Friday—A Republican meeting of the campaign will be held. Speeches will be made by Senators Cullum and Patterson, by Congressmen Hastings, Pennsylvania, and Congressman McCleary, of Minnesota. Delegations from nearly every county of Ohio will be present, and large numbers of visitors are coming from West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana and Michigan.

Saturday will be one of the notable days of the campaign in Canton. Six large and select delegations will visit Major McKinley. The delegation of Chicago railway men, representing all of the railway companies, will number 2,500, and a hundred coaches have been provided for them.

In addition to this delegation there will be a delegation from Butler and Mercer counties, Pa., a delegation of voters from Erie, Pa., and others from Pittsburgh and vicinity; a delegation from New Albany, Ind., and one from Columbus, Ohio, representing the building and trades council.

PRINTING TRADES DELEGATES.

Elected to the Buffalo Convention at a Meeting of the Buffalo League.

The Bryan League of the allied printing trades of the Greater New York met yesterday afternoon at No. 475 Pearl street to elect delegates to the Convention of Bryan delegates, beginning at Buffalo, September 16. James Hattigan presided. Owen J. Kinde-son, Robert H. Deery and Frank E. Bleyer were elected delegates. The expenses of the first two will be paid by the League.

A letter was received from William P. St. John in reply to one requesting that Mr. Bryan, when he comes to New York, address the printers in Printing House Square. Mr. Bryan wanted to know what arrangements had been made for the proposed meeting. A committee was appointed to confer with Mr. St. John.

SENATOR PALMER PLEASED.

Says He is Satisfied with the Notification Meeting.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13.—Senator John M. Palmer, the gold Democratic nominee for President, and Mrs. Palmer, spent the day with friends. They arose early and took breakfast with Colonel Sam McKee at the latter's residence. From Colonel McKee's Senator and Mrs. Palmer went to Judge C. S. Grubb's residence on West Ormsby avenue, where they took dinner.

During the afternoon they visited the Senator's old wartime friend, Mrs. Joshua Speed, at Crescent Hill. Senator Palmer expressed himself as immensely pleased with last night's demonstration, and said that he was coming back to Kentucky again. He and Mrs. Palmer will leave for Springfield to-morrow morning.

A conversation with the Senator's family returned to Monroeville this morning. He goes to Nashville to-morrow with Colonel John B. Fellows, where both will speak at night.

CANNOT HIDE THE TRUTH.

In Ripley, August 31. He told the people that they must control their party. If the leaders showed a disinclination to carry out the wishes of the rank and file of the party, said Mr. Bryan, depose them, and choose new men. "If you approve of the Chicago ticket and platform," he added, "and want the nominees and platform endorsed at your coming State Convention in Buffalo, give positive instructions to your delegates and force them to carry out your wishes."

This advice has been strictly followed. With but one or two exceptions every convention which has selected delegates to go to Buffalo since Mr. Bryan's speech has instructed its representatives to vote for the endorsement of Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform.

When the convention is called to order at Buffalo Wednesday it will be found that the representatives of at least three-fourths of the counties in the State are under iron-clad instructions. Most of the delegates have also received instructions to nominate men for State offices who are known to be heartily in favor of the Chicago ticket—men who have been outspoken for Bryan and Sewall from the time they were nominated.

The Richmond County delegates are the same who were at the convention which selected the delegates to go to Chicago. It is said they are gold men, but will act in the convention with the Tammany delegates, to whom all signs now point as the directing leader of the Convention.

The National Committee has informed his friends that he and Senator Hill had decided to make no fight to retain the State organization, and that he meant this was evidenced a few hours later by the withdrawal of his personal candidates who were standing for re-election to the State Committee from the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Senate districts.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon E. C. S. Miller was in the field and stood a good chance of re-election on the ground of personal popularity and because of his conspicuous services to the party. As soon as Mr. Sheehan's letter was given out, Mr. Miller and State Committeeman Joseph P. Schattner, of the Forty-eighth District, announced their withdrawal from the contest, and this county will put pronounced silver men on the committee from all three districts.

ALBANY.

The four Assembly districts of Albany County instructed all the delegates to vote for the endorsement of Bryan and Sewall and free silver. Senator Hill was elected a delegate from the Third District, but declined to serve because of the instructions.

Indorsed Bryan and Sewall and nominated Lewis D. Germond, of Washington, a strong silver man, as a candidate for member of Assembly. Frank Eno offered a resolution, which was adopted, endorsing Bryan and Sewall, declaring it to be the duty of every true Democrat to howl to the will of the majority, and stating that "wealth is swallowing up the real estate of the country, and has simply ordered our Government with a golden rod to hold up both hands."

ESSEX.

Essex County Democrats gave instructions to the Buffalo delegates to work for the endorsement of Bryan and Sewall and the national platform.

ERIE.

FULTON, HAMILTON.

When the Democratic District Convention for Fulton and Hamilton counties was held a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform, but the delegates were not instructed. The delegates were elected by Senator Hill's local machine.

FRANKLIN.

The Franklin County Convention adopted strong resolutions endorsing the Chicago ticket and platform. The delegates are not literally instructed for free silver, but are free silver men, and will doubtless act in accord with the resolutions adopted at their county convention.

GREENE.

Greene County Democrats adopted resolutions emphatically endorsing the Chicago nominees and platform, and elected out and out silver delegates to the State Convention.

HERKIMER.

At the Herkimer County Democratic Convention, Clinton Beckwith, W. W. Mosher and P. W. Custer were elected delegates to the State Convention. They go unopposed. They are for Bryan and Sewall.

KINGS.

No instructions were given the delegates, but every man is a supporter of Bryan and Sewall and the Democratic platform.

LEWIS.

The Democratic Convention of Lewis County, to elect delegates to the Buffalo Convention, was held August 18. The delegates were fully instructed for the Chicago platform and nominees.

LIVINGSTON.

The Democratic County convention was held in June. The delegates were not instructed, but will vote to endorse Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform.

MONROE.

At all four of the district conventions resolutions were adopted endorsing the Chicago platform and the candidates, Bryan and Sewall, but the delegates were not instructed in any of the districts in reference to their actions at the State Convention.

MONTGOMERY.

The convention was held August 20. The delegates were instructed to vote for the endorsement of Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform.

Sewall and will vote in the convention for resolutions endorsing them.

OSWEGO.

Democrats of Oswego County unanimously adopted resolutions endorsing Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform, and instructing delegates to same effect.

OSWEGO.

At the Democratic Convention all delegates to the State Convention were instructed for free silver by a unanimous vote. The two districts of Oswego County are for free silver and Bryan and Sewall. The delegates number six, three being selected from each district at the convention.

PUTNAM.

The Putnam County convention passed resolutions instructing the delegates to support the Chicago platform at the State Convention.

QUEENS.

The First Assembly District Democratic Convention of Queens County instructed the delegates to vote for the endorsement of Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform.

RENSSELAER.

At the Democratic Convention for the First Assembly District of Rensselaer County resolutions endorsing Bryan and Sewall were adopted. The Democrats of the Third Assembly District of Rensselaer County at Castleton chose delegates to the State Convention. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the Chicago platform and pledging support to Bryan and Sewall.

RICHMOND.

Delegates chosen by Richmond County Democrats to the State Convention to elect delegates to the National Convention were empowered to act as delegates to the Buffalo Convention. They were not instructed. The County Convention declared for the gold standard with only one dissenting voice. The delegation will probably act with Tammany Hall.

ROCKLAND.

The Rockland County Democratic Convention was large, and was composed wholly of farmers and mechanics. Bryan and Sewall were endorsed. The delegates were instructed to vote for the endorsement of the national ticket.

STEARNS.

Stearns County is divided into two Assembly districts. At the First District Convention resolutions were unanimously adopted endorsing Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform. The Second District also endorsed Bryan and Sewall.

ST. LAWRENCE.

The Democratic County Convention of St. Lawrence County, held August 28, passed resolutions strongly endorsing the Chicago platform and ticket without a dissenting voice. The Second Assembly District Convention endorsed the Chicago ticket and platform and sent a pledged silver delegation to the State Convention. The First Assembly District Convention sent a solid silver delegation to Buffalo.

SULLIVAN.

The Democratic Convention of Sullivan County adopted resolutions supporting Bryan held last June, and at a meeting of the County Committee four weeks ago resolutions were adopted endorsing Bryan and Sewall and free coinage of silver. The delegates were not instructed, but they are for the Chicago ticket and platform. The rank and file of the Democratic party demands that the delegates from this county vote to endorse Bryan, and they will accordingly give him their support.

WYOMING.

Wyoming County elected two delegations, both claiming to be regular. Both delegations are instructed for the Chicago nominees and platform.

YATES.

The delegates elected by the Democratic Convention to represent Yates County at the State Convention were instructed to vote for the endorsement of the Chicago ticket and platform. This is in accordance with the sentiment of the Democracy of Yates County and a considerable portion of the Republican farmers.

JOHN R. VOORHIS FOR BRYAN.

Says He Was Never Hostile to the Chicago Ticket.

Warwick, N. Y., Sept. 13.—John R. Voorhis, of New York, who is spending Sunday in this town, was interviewed by a correspondent of the Journal to-day, concerning the political situation. Mr. Voorhis has been classed by the New York papers as a bolter, but he has never authorized the publication of any statement or expression hostile to the platform and nominees of the Chicago Convention. Mr. Voorhis said:
